

HERE COME DA JUDGE

Scripture

Genesis 18:25

Acts 17:31

Introduction

Here come da Judge!! Here come da Judge!! We all laugh, and carry on. Who is this character, the Judge? Why should I worry about him? After all, I'll never get caught. And even if I do get caught, I really haven't done anything too bad.

And so we go on fooling really no one but ourselves. But there is no fool like the one who fools himself. Just as in every phase of our life we are accountable to the teacher, principal, professor, our supervisor or boss, or even John Law himself, we also will be accountable to a righteous Judge for every moral decision. Here come da Judge!! Prepare your defense.

I. It's my life

A. No one is accountable only to himself

1. Saul

- a. He was king
- b. Samuel could not tell him what to do
- c. Saul does as he pleases
- d. Ultimately killed by an Amalekite

2. Ye are not your own

For ye are bought with a price

1 Corinthians 6:19-20

"You can't be saved by doing good," they say, "so you might as well be bad. Do what you like, be free." but these very teachers who offer this 'Freedom' are themselves slaves to sin and destruction. For a man is a slave to whatever controls him.

2 Peter 2:19
